HAWKES HOME TRACT ACCEPTED BY COUNTY

Commissioners Will Grade the Land and Erect Buildings for Girls' Institution

The formal deed of the Harriet Hawkes Industrial Home for Girls was tendered Fulton county Wednesday morning by the directors of the home, and accepted by the board of county commissioners.

The taking over of the construction of the home was presented to the board by Commissioner T. C. Watford and passed by the board, which provides that the county begin grading the property at once.

The home will be built on fifty acres of land out Stewart avenue. The board will lay out driveways and walks and put up the buildings. The home will be for girls who are in dangerous environment, and will be conducted along the lines of the boys' reformatory and similar institutions.

The question of turning over the home to the state was presented to the board in the form of a resolution by Shelby Smith, chairman, but the members voted unanimously against such procedure.

It was agreed that the county take steps at once to collect the $10,000 originally subscribed for the home and as yet uncollected.

A resolution was passed thanking A. C. Hawkes for donating the necessary land for the home.

BEAVERS ASKS PARENTS TO HELP TRAFFIC COPS

Co-operation of Parents Would Greatly Lessen Number of Accidents, He Says

Parents of small children have been appealed to by Chief of Police Beavers to aid him in preventing automobile accidents such as the one which cost the life of John C. Eisele Monday afternoon.

"Warn your children to watch out carefully when crossing a street," said the chief. "Keep them off the street entirely when possible. The department is doing its utmost to remedy the traffic congestion and make life for the streets safe offices, and is stationed at every congested crossing.

Beavers said at every school when the children are not in school rooms, he would be on hand to enforce the traffic ordinance to the letter. Speeders will be summarily dealt with.

The police department is handicapped in a measure by the small force available for traffic duty. "Can we get the cooperation of parents, there will be fewer accidents."

Tammany Defeat Becomes Rout as Count Is Completed

At 10 o'clock, Nov. 4, the successful reorganization of the Tammany forces in yesterday's elections in this state, the organization was not only enabled to elect a plurality of the state, but also to elect the Fusionist elected John Purdy, mayor of New York.

Complete returns showed today that John Purdy, Tammany, defeated Edward E. McCall, Tammany, by 121,000 votes to 107,000. In Albany, the Socialist polled a total of 22,100. McCall behind his ticket in all five boroughs.

William Sulzer, defeated by Tammany's exposure of his undignified contributions, was re-elected to public office, less than three weeks having intervened since he was removed from the governor's chair. He will return to Albany in January as a member of the assembly. Many of the Tammany Socialist, polled a total of 22,100. McCall behind his ticket in all five boroughs.

Wilson's Friend, Fielder, Carries New Jersey Battle

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 5.—James P. Fielder, Democrat, has received a plurality over Stokes, Republican, of 21,000 and it may go above that figure.

The Democrats have elected five of the eight seats, which will make next winter's state senate, with the holdovers, stand 18-12 in favor of the Republicans. They control both houses.

The surprising feature was the light vote cast for Everett Cobb, Progressive candidate. Cobb had been expected to win, but he received only 10,000 votes.

Fielder's vote in the returns at hand is running slightly below 18,000, which was 17,250 in 1910.

Stokes, who probably will exceed 100,000, as compared with 85,000 received by Fielder last year.

Just before midnight President Wilson sent this telegram to James P. Fielder:

"My earnest congratulations. You did not need to call out the reserve."

Judge J. M. Lowe Dead

BUNN, N.C., Nov. 5.—Judge James M. Lowe died here Monday morning. He was about seventy-five years old.

Kidney and Bladder Trouble Causes Great Distress.

It gives me great pleasure to recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root to any one suffering from bladder trouble.

For four years I was troubled by hemorrhages from the bladder and was not able to get any doctor who could help me. It was impossible on account of distressing symptoms. While bending over I would be stricken with such a pain that it was impossible for me to straighten up.

Mr. Henry, one of our reading druggists, advertised Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, although I never had any faith in patent medicines, as a last resort I purchased a dollar bottle of Swamp-Root. I noticed a decided change and after using two bottles I was completely cured. It seemed remarkable that I should be cured so quickly after being so long. But since this took place only two years ago, I have never been troubled and would highly advise any one suffering from the same trouble to at least give Swamp-Root a trial and I think the results will be the same as mine.

Yours very truly,
THOMAS A. BENNETT,
Greensburg, Indiana.

Personally appeared before me this 15th day of February, 1914, Mr. T. A. Bennett, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same are true in substance and in fact.

L. A. BOWEN,
Notary Public.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You.
Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., P.O. Box 518, Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will contain a full bottle of Swamp-Root, and also a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, give name and address. Swamp-Root is sold by all druggists and is the only one that is sold by the name of Swamp-Root. It costs less—of any dealer—and stays fresh until used.

Your Blood A $25 SUI-T!

If impure and debilitated, weak and thin, will surely yield to the purifying and vitalizing powers of HOOD'S SARRAPILLA.

Every honest physician and pharmacist must admit the value of its formula, which includes not only Sarrapilla, but also those great Alternatives, Stillingia and Blue Flag; those great Anti-Bilious and Liver remedies, Mandrake and Dandelion; those great Kidney remedies, Uva Ursi, Juniper Berries and Pipsissewa; those great Stomach Tonics, Gentian Root and Wild Cherry Bark; and other valuable agents.

With these potent ingredients combined in our own scientific proportions and by our own modern processes—Hood's Sarrapilla possesses medicinal powers we believe unequalled in any other medicine.

The meeting will be under the direction of the Young Men's Democratic League of Atlanta, and Charles R. Shotton, vice president, will preside. Congressman William Schley Howard, who is now in the city for a brief visit, will make the introductory address. Senator La Follette will speak on the subject of "Representative Government." When your system is robbed of its natural digestive juices, in their correct proportion, a little candy-like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets gives them the quality you lack and you thereby rest the digestive apparatus and allay irritation, pain, gas and stomach trouble.

Pepsin such as used in a Stuart's tablet is one of nature's greatest aids and when this is combined with the other ingredients you simply bring happiness to every worn-out nerve of the stomach, liver, intestine, pancreas and other organs.

Fried foods will not add nature if she insists on manufacturing the wrong juice. Besides this, the hostile food course and heavy foods in order to make bowel pain which is usually essential to health.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets mix with the food in the stomach, have a tendency to stop gas formation, soothe stomach, decay, etc., then the food passes into the lower digestive tract. The intestine takes the food's digestive agents with it, and there is where the real work is done.

The nutritive value of food and tablet is separated from the waste matter and is assimilated and distributed into the proper parts of the body. The blood is purified and the liver stored with the qualities the system needs.

Go to your druggist now and buy a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, take five, and then eat what you like but take tablet afterwards. There will come to you the beginning of the end of all your stomach troubles and foot fears.—(ADV.)

AUDITORIUM IS ALMOST READY FOR AUTO SHOW

Chairman Reed Gives Oyster Roast to Celebrate Success of Committee's Work

Arrangement of the auditorium for the automobile show that opens Saturday afternoon has reached the stage of "done." Chairman Reed, of the committee, says Contractor Shepard's workmen on those directly connected with the show committee is admitted now, by Thursday night, says Mr. Shepard, the dressing of the big building will be complete. The handsome big cars can be seen in the crack of day Friday morning.

Chairman R. N. Reed, of the show committee, complimented his fellow-committeemen and other workers for the show's success with an oyster roast at the Reed Oyster plant on North avenue at noon Wednesday. "Just a little congratulatory get-together," he explained. "Things have progressed so far we felt it was time to have a celebration of it."

Great quantities of bunting and emblems and other things are being used in the decoration of the building. Twelve thousand feet of blue and white bunting, in blue and white, is just one item. Another is $300, yards of burlap for the floors. Six thousand red poppies are being distributed among the smiles.

The first arrivals for the show are expected in Atlanta Thursday. These will be factory representatives, coming in advance to see to talk things over with branch managers before the rush of the show begins and everybody gets busy. Beginning with then, the tide of visitors will be turned into a flood for more than a week. The hotel hotels are filled with tourists. The whole south has turned its eyes toward Atlanta. For not only is the first display of 1913 models about to be made here, but Sousa's band, world famous and rated as the best, will be an added big feature.

Joe Hall, Tech, 1904, Finds a Dixie Bride In Far South America

All the way from the further end of South America a Georgia boy, a graduate of Georgia Tech, has brought home his bride to Atlanta.

He is Joseph A. Hall, Jr., Georgia Tech '04, and his bride was formerly Miss McCall, of New Orleans, whom he married in far-off Argentina this summer.

Mr. Hall has been in South America three years, working as an agricultural engineer for the United Fruit Co. of Georgia. He had known Miss McCall for nearly ten years, but it was not until he met her about two years ago in the country, ten years from home that their warm friendship ripened to something deeper.

It was that Atlanta friend of Joe Hall, who treated to two surprise parties last Thursday, his own return to the city, and the return of his bride, Mrs. Joseph A. Hall, Jr., who were the occasion of the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall are now at the home of the former's father, 216 Spruce street. They will return to South America later, where Mr. Hall has a position with the Argentine government.

MACHINERY DEALERS' SESSION AT PIEDMONT

Several Kindred Organizations Hold Convention and Talk Over Business and Credits

Annual meetings of the executive committee of the Southern Supply Machinery Dealers' association, the textile association and the Georgia Textile Association are in progress at the Piedmont hotel, all three having been called to order in different rooms Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The gatherings were in executive session during the morning, and subsequent sessions to be held Thursday will also be behind closed doors.

The executive committee of the Southern Supply Machinery Dealers' association and their textile committee, met in joint session to go over the work of the past year and plan for the future. The adjournment of the joint convention city will be named. The members have already voted in favor of Houston, Tex., and it is probable that this action will be ratified.

Luncheon, theater parties and automobile rides over the city will comprise the social features.

STATE SURGEONS WATCH EXPERTS IN OPERATIONS

Leaders of Atlanta Profession Show Visitors How Delicate Surgical Work is Handled

With surgical clinics under way in the Grady hospital and the Atlanta Medical college, the first annual convention of the Georgia Surgeons' club began Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

All the hospital operations were performed by Dr. George H. Noble, Dr. F. C. DeWald and Dr. J. N. Ellis, while at the same time surgical work at the college was being done by Dr. J. L. Campbell and Dr. B. G. Hallinger. Following the morning clinics Dr. Willis Jones operated at the Wesley Memorial hospital.

At each clinic a group of surgeons gathered at the operating table to witness the work and exchange views and ideas on the methods of modern surgery. The club was organized in the interest of advanced education and to bring the physicians of the state in closer and more intimate touch with each other.

A liberal exchange of views, it is believed, will do much towards stimulating success in the chosen profession of the members.

The only business of the club will take place at the Hotel Anley Wednesday night following a banquet scheduled to begin at 8:30 o'clock. A constitution, rules and by-laws will be adopted and officers elected for the ensuing year. The convention will close at a close Thursday afternoon.

COMMITTEE ON SCHOOLS PLAN EARLY MEETING

Members Eager to Begin Work of Mapping Out New System of Operation

The committee appointed by the board of education to formulate a permanent plan by which the schools of the city may be operated will meet either the latter part of this week or the first of next. The members are eager to begin work and would have met sooner had not one or more members been out of the city.

Those on the committee have definite ideas as to what is needed in the schools, and they propose to discuss every suggestion and finally incorporate the best one in an outline of a system whereby the schools may be adequately maintained.

They will go thoroughly into the question of whether or not a bond issue for new schools is needed, by what method school funds shall be obtained and how the schools shall be controlled.

The committee consists of W. H. Terrell, Marcellus Anderson and W. R. Haley, president of the board of education. They expect to report to the board the next week.

SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT

Stop eating meat for a while if your Bladder is troubling you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region, generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms one acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to come out of paralyzed and long. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, they must relieve them. Like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's waste, your waste, else you have backache, headache, dizzy spells, your stomach is bad, you have rheumatism, twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment. Your hands often get numb, water, waste and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jael Sarsaparilla, a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act as nature intended. The acid in the urine so it no longer irritates, but cleans and stimulates the kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine. Jael Sarsaparilla is a life saver for ending bladder weakness.

Jael Sarsaparilla is a life saver for ending bladder weakness. It is inexpensive, cures and makes a delicious, pleasant-tasting water drink.—(Adv.)

Not every man who wins a diploma is a diplomat.

Huerta should consider the defeat of Tammany and take warning.

Democratic doctrine still seems to prevail in several sections of the country.

In fact, President Wilson won in every election
where he happened to be the issue.

The Downfall of Tammany.

In one of the most important elections in the history of America, Tammany and its candidates were repudiated Tuesday at the polls of the city of New York. The oldest political machine in the nation was defeated. For that result, all good Democrats will return much gratitude. Tammany has misrepresented the colors of democracy during many years of power.

Few are not acquainted at least generally with Tammany's works. Few have forgotten its insolence in the Baltimore convention that nominated Wilson for the presidency. That occasion marked the height of Tammany's tide of success. By the behests of a hall, Charles F. Murphy, the organization's chief, misused a presidential candidate. From then the power of Tammany has grown steadily less.

Perhaps never will it be possible to extirpate the roots of Tammany from New York's soil. They have grown deep, and a mere clearing at the surface will not remove them. But for a time, at least, Tammany is down.

Its defeat may have a chastening effect upon it.
Where it has fattened upon public spoils and fed the pap to all its loyal ones, it now faces nature times, add recognition upon healthier principles becomes a necessity; if it is to survive.

It is said that Murphy is to be deposed as leader.
Tammany's power and influence is charged in many quarters to him. He is held guilty of the heinous tactical blunder of leading Tammany out to fight in the open, where it has been attacked from flanks, and rear. Since the time of Aaron Burr, Tammany's principle of warfare has been Fabian—to fight defensively, make the enemy wear himself out on you, to patient under any condition, be silent always under criticism. To Murphy is charged the violation of that rule observed so rigidly by his predecessors—Wood, Tweed, Kelly and Croker. To Murphy's loss of temper and patience when Governor Smith turned on him last May is ascribed the present situation; for then it was that Murphy, drunk with power, rancorous under the trouble that Meyers McClellan and Morgan had given him, smarting under the cold disapproval of Democracy's true leader at Washington—then it was that Murphy determined to make one terrible example of Sulzer as a warning to all of Tammany's creatures who might wish to defy it. There came the tactical blunder, from Tammany's viewpoint. He might have waited until the next election, and then he ignored him. Instead, he charged into the open with Tammany.

The man Murphy is an interesting personality.
A son of immigrant parents, he first drove a horse car in New York, then became a bartender, graduated from that into saloon ownership, and so entered politics as a precinct captain and then a Tammany district leader. In the disorganization following the retirement of Croker, he rose rapidly to the chieftainship of Tammany Hall. He gets no salary in that office. He has no other business than politics.
Yet he is said to live at the rate of more than $50,000 a year. He owns a town house and a country home, but makes his real home and his headquarters at an expensive hotel in New York. Nowhere save in that city could a man like he, holding no office and with no visible means of support, crack
the lash over the backs of governors, mayors, judges, legislators and plain citizens and rule a great city
and a great state with king-like authority.

Tuesday's election means at least a temporary end of this. It means a time for Tammany. New York city's patronage is said to be greater than that of the president of the United States. The loss of it hits Tammany hard, for Tammany cannot flourish without patronage.

But the organization is a business concern, its business being politics and its commodity votes. It is busy at politics twelve months of the year, as against the two or three months that its enemies play at the game. Some day it may come back;
but if it does, it will be as a better and a cleaner Tammany, with its real leaders the men for whom the people are asked to vote.

The egotist thinks he has a good "I."

A man never knows what he can do until he tries
—then he may be sorry he found out.

thing.

matism has been delivered.

Good Omens for Democracy.

There is much room for satisfaction, from the national Democratic point of view, in the several elections Tuesday. Particularly is this true with regard to New Jersey and Massachusetts, in both of which the Washington administration was interested actively.

In New Jersey, the president's home state, the Democrat who succeeded him was re-elected to the governor's office. Not only did the party win with J. F. Fidler as gubernatorial candidate, but it elected five of the eight new state senators, insuring party control in the upper house of the New Jersey assembly. It seems probable that the party will control the lower house. The victory in New Jersey is distinctly an administrative victory, for the president and his policies were made the dominant issues there.
The slump in the progressive vote, from 145,000 the figures for Mr. Roosevelt one year ago) to about 40,000, is hardly less notable than the fact that at least one-fourth of the difference went into the Democratic camp.

In Massachusetts, Governor Eugene S. Fox, "the Dipper," elected as a Democrat some months ago, tallied the ticket with his "Independent" candidacy;
and David I. Walsh, Democrat, was elected by a big majority as his successor. A victory for the Democrats in the whole state ticket seemed to be indicated.

From the returns in both of these states the Washington administration can derive much encouragement. In both of them there had been campaigns so shaped almost as the personal representatives of the president himself.

In other elections elsewhere the Democratic party won the honors of the day. Blair Lee, Maryland Democrat, seems to have been elected to the United States senate as the successor of a Democrat, the late Mr. Rayner. A Democratic congressman was elected to fill the vacancy in the third district of that state.
The party gained an increased control of the state legislature, and elected a state comptroller and clerk of the appellate court.

In Indiana, thirty-three municipalities are reported to have elected Democratic mayors. One of these is Indianapolis, where the Democrats won with their entire city ticket. In other municipalities of the state, seven "citizen" mayors were chosen, four Republicans, and two Progressives.

The voters of Buffalo, N. Y., re-elected their Democratic mayor, and sent into office with him an entire city ticket.

The elections in New York City, where the fusion ticket seems to have swept the field, and in New York state, where the Republicans seem to have won control of the assembly from Tammany and to have elected their judicial ticket, were more in the nature of a repudiation of Tammany than of any other significance. Yet even there, President Wilson was upheld. Mr. Mitchell, the new mayor of New York, was his appointee to the collectorship of the port,
and his candidacy had the endorsement of the president.

Major Gillette's Misfortune.

Senator Hoke Smith's point in the case of Major Gillette is well taken. The former army officer, after resigning from the army several years ago and going to Mexico, applied recently for restatement in the nation's military service. Senator Smith introduced a bill to reinstate him. In a speech
the other night Major Gillette assailed the administration's Mexican policy. The next morning Senator Smith withdrew the bill. Major Gillette will not return to the army. He must find another job in which he can talk to his heart's content and criticize anyone who displeases him.

"His act was not that of a patriot," Senator Smith is quoted as saying. "If he were now in the army, he would be court-martialed for what he said." The senator continues by saying that the former major's conduct entitles him to no special consideration from the president or congress, especially since he seeks reinstatement in that branch of the government which might be involved most actively in a settlement of the Mexican problem.

"This is a time when all friends of the country should uphold the president's hands," says the senator.

No sense has Major Gillette been punished by the withdrawal of the bill in his favor. That withdrawal followed as a natural sequel, as a matter of course, after he had attacked the administration. By his own superiority of talk he disqualified himself from service under the flag. He made his own misfortune.

A WEALTHY MAN

(Copyright, 1913, by Frank Crane.)

I have received a remarkable letter. It is so significant that I am going to give the greater part of it a head to my readers.

Here is a man, it seems to me, who has got himself on the right side of the universe. He is so rich he makes me ashamed of my poverty. He writes:

"I am very wealthy.
"Although you will look in vain for my name in "Who's Who" or the society 'Blue Book,' nevertheless all the art treasures of Mr. Morgan or Mr. Atman are trifles compared to my possessions.
"As I write I glance at one of them in rapid admiration and wonder. It is an incalculable source of delight to me. Its gifts to me are no profits that I can transfer them under foot, yet still they come.
"My gems are beyond price. The pleasure they supply to me is unalloyed, for they give me no worry along with their enjoyment. I have no fear of their loss. Who would rob me would but enrich me further.

"All this vast wealth is confined within the small area of a few hundred feet of the earth's surface. A portion of ground for which I have sold the greater part of my life's work.
"The thing of beauty I refer to is a noble RUBEN MASTERS' picture of a woman reclining on a sofa.
The glory of its autumn foliage.
"Today it is vermilion and green, and gold in the sunlight after a dreary rain.
"Every leaf is a jewel and every one different, each unique in its color and shape. The picture is in harmony with them. They shame the porcelains of China, the vases of Japan, the king's treasures from India.

"The delicate tracery, the fantastic shapes, the tint of color in these leaves. They are full of the craftsmanship of the artist, delicate, of the Infinite Creator. I feel by the joy I set in appreciating them, that I am in the presence of the divine.

"They are falling one by one, and in its splendor of rich color upon the green of the grass, which carries with it raindrops in all the hues of the prism, a carpet of Oriental colors upon a background of earth.

"And when all the leaves have returned to the earth
from which they came, where they will help to fertilize the soil, I will still have the picture of the tree. Its beautiful naked limbs will be etched against the sky, its rugged bark will be etched against the sky, its secret of life to come.

"I rest from my tree, and high thoughts, and wandered, which I cannot utter.
"I seek two things in my Maple, the two things which speak to my soul, and whisper to me the secret of life and of the world to come, and of my worthy living.

"The two things are STRENGTH AND BEAUTY."

Pepps and His Diary

When naughty King Charles II came back to England after an enforced stay in Europe for the benefit of his health—sharp throat trouble, due to over-eating in the Netherlands, had carried off his father to an early grave—Pepps, the young man, was exceedingly unconfident. Mr. Samuel Pepys, a writer of his diary, the "Pepps" diary, the young man, was unconfident, and in places of so extremely frank a nature that it could hardly be said that he was a diarist. But it is one of the most interesting and valuable documents of the last century.

Not that Mr. Pepys was a great man himself, by any means, but his diary is a masterpiece of the art of writing. He was a man of letters, a man of letters, and he wrote and thought. And he saw and did and thought a lot of things. Apparently he did not write with any idea of making a record of his life, but he might have checked some of his exuberant confidences if he had. It was purely a diary, a diary for his own use, a diary for his own use, a diary for his own use. Real intimate pictures are these from Pepys' diary—we learn what Mr. Pepys had for dinner in one paragraph, and in the next what was the latest wit of the king. General Sir John Mordaunt died, and we learn what Mr. Pepys thought of the king's death.

But the diary does more than that; it gives us a picture of Mr. Pepys himself, with all his vanities, and quaint conceits and fancies, and his very entertaining, often witty, and rather satirical, to say the least. That is one reason why a good diarist is so interesting. He tells us about the times of Charles II. He tells us about the times of Charles II.
He tells us about the times of Charles II.

Samuel Pepys, who wrote the famous diary, was born in 1633, the son of a poor and improvident tailor
for doing things "well and orderly" and the next thing
Mr. Samuel had exactly the faculty his father lacked.
He was an industrious young man, who had a passion
for doing things "well and orderly" and the next thing he contrived to do well was to get an education. Where the money came from to send him to school, we do not know, but it is a little uncertain—maybe Samuel's cousin, Sir Edward Montagu, who afterward found himself in the navy, supplied it. At the age of 15, he came to Cambridge, went young Pepys, and about the only thing he did in the records of his university life, besides the routine notice of his entrance and exit, was to mention a rebuke "for having been exceedingly out of order in drinking hardy and being very drunk."

At twenty-two Pepys married Elizabeth St. Michel, the daughter of a poverty-stricken Huguenot. She was a pretty, docile, easily led little lady. It seems "My wife is a fool," observes Pepys in an offhand way in the course of his diary, but he never mentions her again in his life, even though he was married with her fully.

Pepys had no money and no job when he married,
but the Providence who looks after the sparrows sent Sir Edward Montagu along about that time, and Sir Edward found his poverty-stricken relative a government job. Pepys at once began to make good. His passion for business and accuracy made him a valuable man for office work. He continued in government employment during the last years of Cromwell's protection, and his patron was as gentle enough to climb up on King Charles' bandwagon in ample time, so that when the Merry Monarch came back, Montagu continued to hold office, as did all his relatives. It was in the year of the return that the famous diary began. It continued nine years, when, owing to the falling eyesight of his author, it was discontinued.

Now, little Samuel Pepys—somehow always thing of him as little, whether he was or not—had one of the prime qualifications of a good reporter. He was tremendously interested in life. His own life, the lives of those around him, all the everyday things in the world continued to fascinate Pepys. They kept him young and alert. He saw a lot and he wrote down everything he saw. His sense of proportion was very small. Thus we find him describing almost as much time to an account of how he forgot to bring home his key for his things lying about, and then he gives to telling of the restoration of the House of Everyday was an adventure to the diarist. His life was an adventure to the diarist. His life was an adventure to the diarist. His life was an adventure to the diarist. His life was an adventure to the diarist.

The home things were quite as important to Pepys as outside matters. His diary is as much a diary of his family as of his life. He tells us about his wife, who was a fool, as he says, and about his children, who were as foolish as their mother. He tells us about his friends, who were as foolish as his wife and children. He tells us about his enemies, who were as foolish as his wife and children. He tells us about his life, which was as foolish as his wife and children. He tells us about his death, which was as foolish as his wife and children. He tells us about his life, which was as foolish as his wife and children. He tells us about his death, which was as foolish as his wife

The

A dense, intricate black and white pattern of overlapping circles, resembling a complex tessellation or a stylized floral motif, filling the entire page. The pattern is composed of numerous small, overlapping circles that create a complex, interlocking web of shapes. The overall effect is a highly detailed, textured surface that resembles a woven fabric or a complex geometric design. The pattern is framed by a dark, irregular border, suggesting it might be a page from an old book or a decorative endpaper.

Misses Hawkins Give Buffet Luncheon

An event of Wednesday morning was the buffet luncheon which the Misses Hawkins and Miss Helen Hawkins entertained at their home on Piedmont avenue in compliment to Miss Anna Akers, who is one of the season's debutantes.

The drawing room where the guests were received was banked with palms and growing plants, and tall graceful many shadeds yellow chrysanthemums filled the room and continued the attractive color scheme of gold which was seen in all the details of the luncheon.

In the dining room French baskets filled with Glorif de Dijon roses graced the center of the beautifully appointed table, and fine white and gold napkins in shades of yellow.

Mrs. Hawkins wore a gown of taupe brocade velvet, French blue chiffon on the corsage giving a pretty touch of color. Miss Mary Hawkins was gowned in old blue chiffon draped over satin of a deep blue, the bodice being formed of shadow lace. Miss Helen Hawkins wore a lovely gown of rose colored crepe. Miss Rebecca Devine, of Cartersville, was gowned in silk crepe, decorated with overdrapery of gold lace. Miss Akers wore a pastel shade of blue, decorated with artistically draped overchiffon, the lace on the corsage being continued on the skirt, and a touch of oriental embroidery was introduced on the bodice.

Assisting the young hostesses in receiving their guests were Miss Anna Akers, Miss Rebecca Devine, Miss Dorothy Harman, Miss Mildred Harman and Miss James D. Palmer. Mrs. W. E. Hawkins, Mrs. Clarence May, Mrs. Robert Hancock, Mrs. Frank D. Holland, Mrs. James R. Akers, Mrs. Spencer Atkinson and Mrs. Robert Wood.

Miss Brown's Luncheon For Brides-Elect

Miss Corrie Hoyt Brown was the hostess at a beautiful luncheon Wednesday, at her home on Peachtree street, the occasion complementing three of the season's brides-elect.

Covers for fourteen were laid at a prettily appointed table, the details of which were in green and white. Handmade white chrysanthemums filled a tall basket in the center, surrounded by small baskets wreathed in roses. The places were marked by miniature trunks of white satin, sewed with the guests' names, and ornamented with cupid, the contents being illuminated with numbers of pink candles in brass stands on the mantels and cabinets.

The prize for top score was a bouquet cap, the consolation was silk stockings, and the honor guests received dainty bodice jackets as special souvenirs. Miss Brown's was gowned for the afternoon in mahogany charrasse, made with coat effect of cream lace, finished at the throat with soft folds of chiffon.

Buy Your Corsets for a Purpose

Changes in fabrics, fluffs, slashes and hobbles come from Paris and may be accepted or rejected with little reference to health or other permanent consideration.

BUT—It's Different With Corsets!

Let's be SENSIBLE. The human body hasn't changed in shape or needs. Regardless of fashion, the "female form divine" requires hygienic support—and MORE THAN EVER NOW, for the dangers of ill-fitting or non-supporting corsets are actually increased by the advent of the "natural figure."

The Nemo Hygienic Corset Service is Indispensable To Meet Existing Fashionable Conditions—This Way:

1. The inevitable long corset-skirts are made flexible and comfortable by the durable semi-elastic Nemo fabrics, which are GUARANTEED TO OUTWEAR THE CORSET.
2. The desired low-bust models are made full and easy by the Nemo "bridge" construction, which insures free breathing space, and freedom from pressure above the waist-line—tops of steels don't "dig in" when you bend.
3. Durable bands of LASTIKOPS semi-elastic fabrics reduce hips and thighs; support the abdominal walls; prevent harsh pressure anywhere, no matter how tightly the corset is laced.

Here's a New Nemo Model You Ought to See:

No. 512 THE NEWEST LASTIKOPS CORSET, for tall or average full figures, produces extreme reduction, all around, below the waist-line. Extremely low skirt; broad bands of semi-elastic Lastikops Webbing across the hips and lower hips; the new Lastikops-Back. This triple REDUCTION also gives a triple EXPANSION when seated—upright style and perfect ease. Fine white cotton, sizes 20 to 30.

If you have a full, large figure, and want extreme abdominal support from underneath, try Nemo No. 523, at $5.00. If you prefer a model that will gradually drive away abdominal fat while giving you a fine figure, try improved Auto-Massage Corset, No. 356, at $3.50. If you want good abdominal support with wonderful reduction of back and hips, look at Nemo No. 506, at $5.00. If your upper limbs are thick and heavy, you'll find relief and comfort in Nemo No. 409, at $4.00. If you desire a fine reducing corset, giving excellent abdominal support, with low bust and very long skirt, try Nemo No. 322 or No. 326, at $3.00. Many other models. Ask your dealer.

War Clouds, Tammany Elections, etc., Not Interfering With Their Golf Tournament

The contest between the representatives of the three dailies is narrowing down to a few players who have survived the first two rounds, and those who remain in the tournament are determined to win or die, as the football editor would say.

Riverside in Best of Shape

GAINESVILLE, Ga., Nov. 5.—Sixty-five boys in football, five eleven eleven running signals and four coaches on the job. This is the composition that the Riverside Military academy of Gainesville presents to the Georgia football community. Riverside has an eleven ranging from 140 pounds to 150 pounds. Riverside will put an eleven on the field to meet them, averaging just that. This is the same way to conduct athletics and reduce to a minimum the possibility of an injury, tends to increase clean sport and make the game war while and closely contested.

S. L. Meeting Here Dec. 15

The regular winter meeting of the Southern League club will be held in Atlanta on December 15, Atlanta being chosen for the meeting because it is customary to hold it in the town winning the pennant.

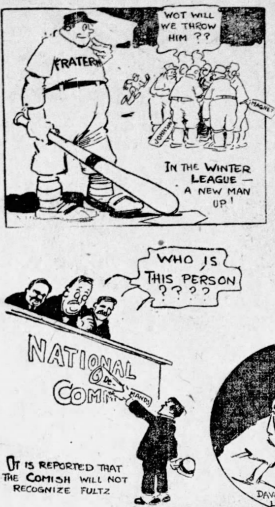

The meeting place was decided upon Tuesday and will be the Andy hotel. A business meeting will be held during the day and that evening an elaborate banquet will be tendered the visiting managers. All managers and club presidents are to attend.

Welchance May Visit Atlanta to Get Trophy

Harry Welchance, the Cracker back hitting outfielder, who copied the Southern League hitting honors in the past season, has been requested to come to Atlanta on the night of February 16 to be publicly presented with the handsome silver trophy offered by the league's leading hitter.

LEADER OF BALL PLAYERS' FRATERNITY

...BY RIPLEY

NEW LOOKOUT MANAGER IS BASEBALL COMEDAIN

Harry McCormick Just Happened to Get Into the Game and Stayed Because He Didn't Happen to Get Out

Harry McCormick, new Lookout leader, but formerly of the Glants, is the funniest man in baseball. He is better known as "Bully" and "Mush the Moose," the somewhat humorous appendage of Harry not being adapted to his variety of disposition. "Bully" is also known for his remarkable ability to hit in the pinches, a thing that kept him close to the New York club payroll for several years. That's another story.

McCormick never did give a serious thought to baseball. He just happened into it and happened to get out. That's his case in brief. The only things for which he ever showed a fondness were football, whistling and saying or doing funny things of the "dry" variety. He never went out of his way to draw a laugh, which makes it better. Incidentally he was quite a gladiator star in his college days, but at baseball—well as a fiddler and runner he is a good hitter.

But Murray, who formerly managed the Phillies, discovered "Mush the Moose" somewhat accidentally. He afterward had a lot of dealings with the same player and Murray's own self sick today if any one asks for a few funny incidents in the career of McCormick.

Moran Will Quit Playing Baseball

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 5.—Notwithstanding the fact that he had a great year on the coast, hitting .274 and stealing 53 bases, Roy Moran, former Cracker and Lookout, is thinking seriously of retiring from the national pastime. Moran arrived here yesterday from the west and will remain several days to visit friends.

"I am getting tired of knocking around the country," said the Atlanta, "and I want to settle down at some profession. I have been playing baseball long enough."

Moran was warm in his praise of Jimmy Johnston and stated that the local boy looked even faster on the coast than he did with Birmingham. "If he doesn't make good in the majors I can't see the reason why," said Roy. Moran states that the climate on the coast is ideal but that for some inexplicable reason it seemed to have slowed him up.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 5.—But one thing, the defeat of Vanderbilt on Thanksgiving, can bring adequate solace to the fans for the Tennessee defeat at the hands of the Tech adepts last Saturday. The Tigers, now practically eliminated from the S. I. A. A. running, are mourning the loss of their season's only chance to win the championship on Tuesday day. This would all but salvage the pains of their defeat at the hands of Tech.

NAPS QUIT NEW ORLEANS; WILL TRAIN AT MACON, GA.

Practice at Tech Is Closed Secret

On account of the extreme care and precaution that must be taken by the school will not be allowed to hang around while the team is practicing. Therefore to save embarrassment and inconvenience to the friends of the team, this method is taken to keep the Tech variety in action at any time other than at the games each week. This was decided upon by the coaches Tuesday night.

Those who are real friends of the school will understand the object of this measure, while those who are not friends of the school will not be allowed to hang around while the team is practicing. Therefore to save embarrassment and inconvenience to the friends of the team, this method is taken to keep the Tech variety in action at any time other than at the games each week. This was decided upon by the coaches Tuesday night.

The showing of the Tigers last Saturday is a mystery which is all but inscrutable. The Tigers are hard at work on the mountain, however, in spite of their misfortune and will enter the Alabama game with their fighting spirit undimmed.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Owners gathered here today to attend the annual business meeting of the American baseball league, which has been set for tomorrow. The board of directors, composed of C. A. Comiskey, Chicago; Charles V. Bonner, Cleveland; Frank J. Farrell, New York; and James R. McAlister, Boston, devoted itself today to routine business in advance of the main session.

Pelican Fans Now Wondering Where Manager Frank Will Get His New Material

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.—Whether the withdrawal of the Naps from Pelican Park as a training camp will lead to a servitude of business relations with the local fans is a question which has been debated. The story that Joe Birmingham and his club would train at Macon, Ga., instead of the Carrollton avenue grounds next spring has been verified. Vice President Barnard has hated exhibition games at Birmingham, Atlanta and Chattanooga, which means that the Naps will not play within 200 miles of the Crescent City.

In a way the Cleveland affiliation has done the Pelicans more harm than good. Of course, it is admitted that Knapp, Callahan and Doane helped the Pelts to keep the bill payment, but since then very few players of any ability have been sent here, while Jackson, Solomons, Fletcher and a host of others have always kept the Naps in the running. Johnston filling a gap last season that made their infelix.

If the alliance between the Pelicans and Naps is dissolved, there are very few local fans who will regret such an occurrence. Ever since the Cleveland club arranged to send youngsters here, most of the fans have looked upon them as bushers. Of course, there has been several exceptions. Phils Wilson, Jack

Georgia in Her Best Condition Auburn Working Hard for Tech

Red and Black Eleven Free of Injuries—Putting Fast Men in Forward Positions

Coaches Realize They Will Have a Battle When They Go Against the Jackets

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 5.—After a stiff workout yesterday afternoon the Georgia variety today is in the best condition of the year. The team came out of the game with North Carolina with only the average number of minor bruises, but Monday and Tuesday's stiff workouts soon put the boys in the best of shape.

The scrimmage Tuesday consisted mainly in preparing for the game with Clemson tomorrow afternoon. The scrub team took Clemson's defensive formation and the varsity tried every play in their repertoire against them, together with some new plays which Coach Cunningham is planning to spring on the Carolinians. Georgia anticipates a hard game with Clemson, but according to comparative scores there seems little doubt that the Carolina Tigers will get away with a victory. The Tigrid field at Athens is a 20-50 yards earlier in the season, and this is taken as a sure sign that trouble can be anticipated.

The Red and Black hospital staff has been rubbed clean as far as practice goes. Bill Carey, the veteran half back, was back in the line-up against North Carolina, but will not be again used until the Tech game. Carey was hurt in the second game of the season and by careful grooming alone has been put in such condition that he can play at all. Steve Crump is back in the lineup at left end and will play Thursday. He was injured at the same time as Carey, but is in better shape than Carey. Broyles will be shifted from half to guard, where his fierce speed is expected to greatly strengthen Georgia's forward line. Cunningham thinks that speed is as essential to a line position now as was before formerly under the old-fashioned rules.

Another invalid, "Tiny" Henderson, the moustache guard, reported for practice Monday and received a great ovation from the several hundred fans who were on the field to see the Georgia team practice. Tiny will not play against Clemson, but will be carefully conditioned for the Tech game. He was injured in the first half of the Virginia game at Atlanta. Henderson's re-entry into the game is an inspiration to fans and greatly enhances the prospects of the team.

All in all, Georgia's team as before said looks better now than ever before. The men who have been injured at any time during the year will not be used against Clemson unless the final decision of the game depends upon Cunningham putting them in the lineup. This means that for the two following games, Tech and Auburn, Georgia will be able to put her best strength on the field and in the best of form.

This year Georgia has no Thanksgiving game, the Auburn game at Ponce de Leon park, Atlanta, on November 22, being the final game scheduled.

ATHENS, Ala., Nov. 5.—Othello Newell is almost the only certainty here and this keeps the other men constantly on edge. The line is practically solid, but the substitutes, as in the backfield, are almost as good as the regulars, and no chance is given to loaf.

"Go to Tech!" is the slogan and when Saturday comes and the game begins, great will be the battle there.

The rest of the backfield is running smoothly and fighting hard. Captain Newell is almost the only certainty here and this keeps the other men constantly on edge. The line is practically solid, but the substitutes, as in the backfield, are almost as good as the regulars, and no chance is given to loaf.

And Auburn is getting busy. On Monday night a routing mass meeting of the entire student body was held. The coaches and managers of the team made speeches and the sum and substance was, "Tech has got 'em."

Secret practice is the order of the day. On Thursday afternoon, however, the entire student body headed by the band is to march to Drake field and cheer the team through their final practice.

Without any serious injury and about in good condition for the coming game, Spawm, however, will be at the line-up, having with a peculiar and serious accident. A falling chair struck him in the eye, almost blinding him.

HANK'S NINETEENTH DAY--KNOBS HAD HIM GOING FOR A WHILE

--BY FARREN

THE SPORTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

THE BIG THREE OF HISTORY.
The Glory that was Greece, the Grandeur that was Rome, the Touchdown that was Yale—where have they passed today? Alas! their ancient Goats are beating far from home. From old New Haven's trees of elm and oaks the Apollas way.

Time was they ruled the field, time was they had the stuff. And rushed the ball across on first or second down. But now across the map they're allied off in the rough. Amid the Yanks and Keds, the Cardinals and Browns.

When will they come again—the Alexanders reign?
The Caesars of renown—the Chadwicks and the Coys?
When will they come again to rule by hill and plan,
And stand as through gray years the one Triumphant Note?

THE YALE RENAISSANCE.
Apparently the Yale renaissance is not yet in order. The new regime has not yet had a full, fair trial but among those who like it extravagantly are Maine, W. and J. and Colgate. With Princeton and Harvard it is to be heard from.

Yale has been slipping back for some time—back at least from her old standard of excellence—but it was thought a new order would be established this fall—a new order that would accomplish no miracles but at least slip back nearer to the ancient glory. In place of which Yale is just a trifle further back now than she has been at this time since 1910, with only a miracle to save her from utter demotion.

AS FOR THE ANSWER.
Yale's present chapter of woes is still something of a mystery. She has the finest athletic tradition of any American college or university. She has a mighty roll call to pick from—a wealth of coaching material and an aggressive captain. Her eleven have the weight and the strength. But they are not the old-time Yale eleven by a good many notches.

Quite evidently there must be something out of gear, but just what is something is too early to tell. The best available information seems to be that where Yale once had the greatest system of all, today she hasn't any system whatsoever.

After all these matters of triumph and defeat come and go in change of seasons, The St. Louis Browns and the Boston Nationals once ruled baseball. But not today. The Giants for a long time were the greatest talismans of their circuit. Yale was rampant above Harvard for a long time and it so happens that the Crimson is due. And it's due to check a bloke who is due, if said bloke insists upon going to it.

But in the meanwhile Col. A. A. Stagg, of Chicago University, is piling along with his usual serenity, holding, as it were, the even lyrical note of his way. His main enemy now is Minnesota and when No. 13 arrives there should be enough for displaced to cover a large, thick section of the West.

NOT YET.
The latest winter league shift has Speaker coming to the Yanks and Cobb moving to the Red Sox. But up to the precise moment of centering a press black has yet to trade Butler and Collins for Gus Williams of the Braves.

THE KINK AGAIN.
Old King Cole was a jolly old soul. A hearty old party and leader. But old King Cole never met his roll on Yale.

West Point trimmed Colgate, Colgate beat Yale and Notre Dame annihilated West Point. Apparently they are still playing some football in the West—in isolated spots at least.

Problem in higher integral calculus: If Yale is awarded a member of the All-American eleven this fall, how many members are due Colgate, Notre Dame and Michigan Aggie?

HARVARD-PRINCETON.
Harvard carries the advance edge in her Tiger engagement of Saturday. But against Princeton no eleven carries any chance. Princeton, as usual, carries a combination of speed and aggressiveness that, given any leeway, may result in vast trouble for an opposing team. Princeton lowered the crimson flag two years ago, when Harvard looked to have the better eleven, but this next Saturday will find Princeton up against one of the best Harvard eleven of history—an eleven not only strong in the physical requirements, but one that carries all the aggressive confidence which old-time Harvard eleven lacked in competition with the blue or the orange and black.

Harvard of late years not only has the stuff, but she knows how to use what she's got.

It's a good thing that no standing of the Clubs, with the percentage recorded, is maintained in football or Cornell's student body would suffer a number of intense pangs every morning. Even as it is the blue citizenship is beginning to appreciate in a faint dim way just how brown rosters feed on the 14th of each June.

After beating Carleton and Cornell, Pittsburg university toppled over before Bucknell. One of the psychological breaks against Pittsburg may have been that Bucknell is the All-American of certain renowned pitcher who has caused Pittsburg a certain amount of annoyance for a matter of thirteen years.

Chicago is now in the lead for the western football championship. And if Mr. Evers will observe Mr. Stagg's system closely, he may notice that the maroon coach insists upon his men paying more attention to playing football than in bawling out the umpire. Mr. Stagg seems to think that it is easier to win a game on the field than it is to win one in the club house, under a three-day suspension.

In the meanwhile, Colonel C. Webb Murphy is on his way to Europe. What a prodigious and devastating blow at baseball it would be if he should decide to stay over there and never come back!

Princeton Cancels Games Because of Gay's Death.
PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 5.—After the death of George Gay, Princeton student and athlete, whose neck was broken in a football game Saturday night, the faculty met last night and decided to cancel the remainder of the football schedule. The two games to be played were with Pennsylvania Military College and Franklin and Marshall.

Notre Dame Leaves To Play Penn State.
NOTRE DAME, Ind., Nov. 5.—The Notre Dame football team left for the east today for their clash with Pennsylvania State next Saturday. Because of the long trip yesterday's practice was light. The freshmen team, using the club house, which was closed last week, were completely routed by the regulars.

EASTERN CHAMPIONSHIP Princeton-Harvard Game Opens Series

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The opening game of the excellent eastern football championship series will be played at Princeton, N. J., on Saturday, when the eleven of Harvard and Princeton will meet in their annual combat. This will be the seventeenth contest between the teams of the two institutions since 1877, when the Tigers and Crimson first mingled on the football field.

There have been a number of breaks in the series between Princeton and Harvard, and at present the score stands Princeton 13 victories, 4 defeats, Harvard, 4 victories, 13 defeats.

Judging from the form displayed by the two eleven which are to clash in the most important game of the east this week, Harvard should be a slight favorite, but Princeton adherents point to the peculiar fact that the Crimson has not defeated the Orange and Black on the Tigers' home field in many years. As a result a fraction has sprung up in Princeton to the effect that Harvard cannot win from Princeton at Princeton.

ISN'T BASEBALL STRANGE? They Never Give Mike the Credit

Michael Homer Finn is a quiet character. In some respects he is queer. Ball players, particularly those who never played under him, will tell you that Finn is the best pitcher in the game. He is a theorist, and that his subalterns really run his club. It is a fact, though not generally known, that the veteran ball player is probably because he never attained any great degree of conspicuousness as a diamond artist himself.

For this reason Finn is regarded as a theorist in some circles. Perhaps he is. But if results count for anything—and they surely do—then Finn has been an eminently successful theorist, and he might profit other mortals to copy his ideas and fashion of execution.

Finn's adherents would have you believe that he couldn't tell a ball player from a loaf of Swiss cheese, and in substantiation of the charge will point how the Mike let several players get away from him. It is true that Finn allowed a couple of players of class to drift away from his clutch, but where is the manager who hasn't been guilty of similar offenses?

Right along this line, Finn himself remarked last season: "Whenever my club is in the fix, I'm battling with tooth and nail for the lead, attention is usually called to the sterling worth of our illustrious captain. All of which is well and good, and never undervalued. But what, when we begin hitting the chutes, dropping annies to teams that we found okay on a previous trip, who draws the fire of the hostile critics? The captain? No. There you are."

Fireman Jim Is Anxious for Butts Waddell Denies He Has White Plague

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Jim Flynn stopped in Chicago en route to New York, and announced that he intends to wipe up the canvas with Gumbat Smith, Carl Morris or any other heavy weight with white hope aspirations around the metropolis. Flynn said his manager wired him the pickin's were good in New York.

Auburn Alumni Plan To Receive Auburn "11"

A meeting of the members of the Auburn Alumni club will be held at the University club Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock, according to Dr. E. J. Spratt, president of the Alumni club, in order to make plans for the members to attend the Tech-Auburn game at Grant field Saturday in a body. Also the Alumni club will prepare to entertain the Auburn footballers with some form of amusement the evening of the game.

A list of the members of the club has been sent out from Hickman, Ky., to the effect that Rube Waddell, who gained fame as a baseball pitcher with the big leagues, and recently with the Minneapolis American Association team, is seriously ill from tuberculosis, is dead, is here. Waddell said today that he is suffering from a slight attack of bronchitis, but otherwise his health is as good as it ever was. Waddell returned a day or two ago from a hunting trip, and his present trouble is caused by getting his feet wet, he says.

feature. During the morning there was a pressure on the market than on Monday under the leadership of local bulls, prices in noon had advanced 15 points from initial level. The price of a small grinding figure was crop estimate by the National Grinders' board, the firmness and the price of the flour were made on Turner's report of the day. The price of the flour was 200.00 per bushel, gained to November 1, which is 200.00 per bushel to the government to the same date last year. The volume of outside trade was rather light on the market, backed up on the rally. The price was 100.00 per bushel, outside of the price of grinding reports.—Anderson.

COTTON MARKET OPINIONS

Hotchchild: "There seems to be a feeling that some long cottons will come over the market, liquidation of which must take place before an advance can be maintained."
 Logan & Bryan: "We think the market will become more of a two-sided affair than recently, though on the extreme weak side."
 "We may have a big side sale of 100,000 bales."
 E. F. Hutto and Co.: "Support from non-bullish interests is decidedly low."
 10/22/31

Sternberger, Ninn & Co.: We think now is still high enough, although from time to time we will unquestionably have rallies.

The Southern International Poultry Show

During the first week in December the people of Atlanta will see the greatest poultry show ever staged in the southern states at the auditorium-annex. Every individual who is interested in the entry of the best of fancy fowls that have ever been bred in this section of the country, will find it profitable to see the show. It is a show of the best of the best, and it is a show of the best of the best.

There have been many small shows in the past, but this is the first of its kind. It is a show of the best of the best, and it is a show of the best of the best. It is a show of the best of the best, and it is a show of the best of the best. It is a show of the best of the best, and it is a show of the best of the best.

Every indication points to most prosperous business during the coming season in the breeding of pigeons all over the south, and such a display of products as was never seen before will be brought out at this show.

The pigeon display will be unusually large, as much interest is now being shown in the breeding of pigeons all over the south, and such a display of products as was never seen before will be brought out at this show.

There have been many small shows in the past, but this is the first of its kind. It is a show of the best of the best, and it is a show of the best of the best. It is a show of the best of the best, and it is a show of the best of the best. It is a show of the best of the best, and it is a show of the best of the best.

There are several thousand dollars in cash premiums offered and something like 100,000, and aside from the money won this show the premiums are valuable and worth going after.

Mr. T. M. Poole, secretary, 121 Market street, will gladly furnish premium lists and give information desired, and those who are interested in the poultry industry in any way, shape or form can not afford to miss this show.

Yours very truly,
T. M. Poole, Secretary.
